Appendix 1 Roald Dahl's Billy and the Minpins Synopsis

The story begins with Little Billy, a young boy who is highly curious about the outside world. Little Billy lived on the outskirts of a dense forest. Little Billy was never allowed to do anything exciting by his mother. His mother forbade things Little Billy wanted to do, including going out and exploring the outside world.

One day, Little Billy was staring blankly out the window outside his house, and as usual, Little Billy's mother would call him to make sure he was doing. However, Little Billy was starting to feel bored with his situation. He wanted to leave the house and go to a forest not far from his house known as The Forest of Sin. Even though Little Billy's desire to explore the forest was powerful, his mother always warned him to stay away from the forest because he believed that the forest was inhabited by a dangerous creature named the Terrible Bloodsuckling Toothpluckling Stonechuckling Spittler. Even though his mother had warned Little Billy of the dangers of the forest, he still wanted to explore there because he did not believe his mother's words and only thought that his mother was trying to scare Little Billy into not going into the forest.

One afternoon, Little Billy heard a whisper from a demon that often appeared when he was bored. The demon's whisper influenced Little Billy to explore The Forest of Sin. Little Billy, who has a high curiosity, asks the devil about the forest, and the devil proudly says there are many extraordinary things in the forest. Curiosity got the better of Billy, and at that point, he decided to go to the Forest of Sin to see how things were going in the forest. When Little Billy reached the edge of the forest, he was hesitant to enter the forest but still decided to explore the dense forest. The forest was filled with tall, ancient trees that seemed to touch the sky. Little Billy felt that the forest was so quiet that no sound could be heard in the forest.

As Little Billy walked deeper into the forest, he heard a strange sound blowing through the trees. Suddenly the sound got louder, so Little Billy ran into the forest. As Little Billy tried to run faster to escape the terrifying sound chasing him, he glanced back and saw two large plumes of orange-red smoke rising and rolling toward him. Little Billy kept trying to escape from the creatures that were chasing him. However, when he tried to run away, he heard another monster trying to chase him. Little Billy was very scared and cried while screaming for his mother.

Little Billy, who kept running, saw a big tree branch that was very low in front of him, so he decided to climb the tree to save himself from the beast. While resting on the big tree, Little Billy felt a strange feeling around the tree. Suddenly a tiny window began to open from the tree. From the window, he has appeared the figure of a tiny creature with an older man's stature staring at Little Billy with a very intense expression. Then another window in the tree began to open, revealing little faces unfamiliar to Little Billy. When silence fell between the little creatures and Little Billy, the tiny older man started talking and said he knew the situation Little Billy was in, and Little Billy agreed.

Little Billy's curiosity led him to question what creatures he encountered. One of the little creatures then said they were the Minpins who owned the forest. The old Minpin also explained their life in the forest, more precisely in the trees, to Little Billy. The Minpins were also excited to show how the rooms they lived in were doing, and Little Billy was happy that his presence did not disturb the Minpins. However, Little Billy suddenly remembered that he could not stay there long because he had to go home soon so his mother would not scold him, but Don Mini forbade him to get down because of the beast hunting him.

Don Mini explains to Little Billy that the beast chasing him is called The Gruncher. The Gruncher is a scary monster that terrorizes the forest and devours hundreds of humans and millions of Minpins. Due to Little Billy's curiosity towards The Gruncher, Don Mini offered Little Billy to go down a little from the tree to see The Gruncher. Don Mini also explained that no one ever knew how The Gruncher looked because his body was covered in a cloud of smoke from his stomach. Little Billy is given a warning by Don Mini not to get down from the tree because The Gruncher smells Little Billy's scent.

Little Billy was amazed when he saw birds carrying several Minpins away. Don Mini explains that the Minpins and the birds are friends and even work together to collect food supplies for their community in the forest. Don Mini also said they had a bird named Robin as a trainer for Minpin's children to learn to fly with birds. When he saw the Minpins practicing flying, Little Billy suddenly asked about a way to get rid of The Gruncher. Then, Don Mini says that one way to get rid of The Gruncher is by dropping him into the water. The fire is also its heart will die by dropping into the water. After hearing an explanation from Don Mini, Little Billy got the idea to get rid of The Gruncher. He would take advantage of the puffs of smoke blocking The Gruncher's vision to lead it to a lake full of water at the forest's edge. That way, they can get rid of The Gruncher forever. However, Little Billy asks Don Mini to call him a bird he can ride.

Little Billy explains in detail how he planned to get rid of The Gruncher so that Don Mini could convey Little Billy's plan to the Swan. After Don Mini understood Little Billy's plan, he immediately asked Robin to call the Swan over. When the Swan arrived, Don Mini explained his plans and asked the Swan to do it according to plan. After the Swan agrees with Little Billy's idea, they immediately set off to fight The Gruncher with the enthusiastic accompaniment of the Minpins in the forest. Little Billy and the Swan go against The Gruncher with the previous plan. The Swan did its job of flying close to The Gruncher so that the scent of Little Billy seduced the creature. When Little Billy and the Swan managed to lead The Gruncher to the edge of the forest, the Swan immediately flew straight towards the lake in front of them. When The Gruncher greedily chased after Little Billy and the Swan, he suddenly fell into a lake full of water. After that, The Gruncher disappeared under the water forever, and the Minpins who witnessed it immediately shouted happily at Little Billy's victory, and the Swan defeated The Gruncher.

Little Billy and the Minpins return to the tree house where the Minpins live. Don Mini proudly announces to all the Minpins in the forest that they can live safely and comfortably because The Gruncher has been lost forever. Don Mini proudly mentions that Little Billy is a hero to the Minpins. They celebrated their victory, and Billy was hailed as a hero among the Minpins. As a thank you to Little Billy, Don Mini prepares a gift, the Swan, which will be Little Billy's personal transportation to explore and visit the Minpins in the forest. However, Don Mini asked Little Billy to travel with the Swan only at night, and also Little Billy had to keep the whereabouts of the Minpins secret from the outside world so that no one would know about the Minpin's life in the forest.

Little Billy remembered that he had to hurry home so his mother would not be suspicious of him. The Swan brought Little Billy home safely, but when he got home, Little Billy's mother saw Little Billy's dirty and messy condition, which made his mother angry. By lying, Little Billy said he had climbed a tree outside the house so his mother would not scold him with any more questions. Since then, Little Billy began to explore the outside world that he had never seen before with the Swan. He was starting from flying high through the sky to flying down into a deep hole. Little Billy saw and experienced many extraordinary experiences while exploring with the Swan. Little Billy still visits the Minpins in the forest regularly every week. Moreover, at the end of the story, Little Billy and the Minpins promise to visit each other one day. Then, the story closes with the narration that not all children can experience the extraordinary experience that Little Billy had, and people who do not believe in magic will never find it.
