APPENDIX 5 Results of Interview

1. Question: Please mention examples of disruptive behavior that students often did during the English class take place!

Answer:

“Perilaku yang sering terjadi adalah satu cheating atau tanpa sengaja melihat hp kan.. ya termasuk ya karna gak minta izin karna dia sekarang boleh bawa hp. Teruss ganggu temannya misalnya kayak N7 (N=student’s name) selalu diganggu modelnya contohnya, teruuus kadang kadang mereka duduk dibangku kan gak boleh..ha a..teruuus biasasih biasanyasih kayak N12 (N=student’s name) suka mengganggu ya ha a sukanya mengganggu itu aja sih biasanya yang sering saya temukan atau ribut ya yak ribut paling sering itu ribut ya itu sih. Keluar masuk kelas sih kadang kadang tapi dia minta ijin biasanya iya, karna kalo untuk keluar masuk kelas itu memang harus mereka kebudayaan memang minta izin cuman ya itu lagi setelah itu baru yee yaa atau mungkin yang dr luar mungkin mengganggu ya kadang kadang.. yaaa kadang buka pintu aja gak minta izin krecekseksek.. yaa..ha a.., (kalau menepuk meja?) jarang sih saya temukan cuman memang kadang kadang ada tapi jarang lah ha a ,yang lebih sering sih memang ribut ya yhaa, mengobrol, dan juga ngambil HP ya iyaa.. hooh.”

[The most common disruptive behaviors that occurred in the class are cheating or accidentally looking at their cellphone. That includes disruptive behaviors because of not asking permission. Now students are permitted to carry cellphones to the school. Then disturb other students, for example N7 (N = student’s name) students who are always bullied. Sometimes they also sit on the bench. Another example is N12 (N = student’s name) likes to annoy other students. It is a common thing. The disruptive behavior that very common also was noisy. While students who enter and exit the class in the learning process are rare, they always ask permission before leaving or entering the classroom because of the culture. (“How about hit the table?”) I rarely found students hitting tables, but sometimes there were but very rarely. The more common ones were students made a noise, chatting and also taking cellphones.]

6. Question: How do you deal students with disruptive behavior?

Answer:

“Eee.. langsung dikasi tau, misalnya kayak jangan lakukan itu, atau pa.. apa namanya kasi tau mereka kenapa.. ee.. tanyak dulu kenapa mereka ngelakuin itu, atau nggak mungkin langsung marah kadang ya.. hooh , knpa si.. ya direct langsung iya. Atau misalnya kadang-kadang juga ngasik saran kenapa si bisa kayak gini, apa yang menyebabkan, segala macem.”

[I immediately reprimanded students who behaved disruptive, for example “Don’t do that!”, or ask questions in advance why they did that. Sometimes I also get angry and give direct instructions. In addition, sometimes I also give advice to the students and so on.]

7. Question: Have you ever called the name of the student to stop students’ disruptive disruptive?

Answer:

“Mmm ya kayak saya bilang tadi ya hoooh, kadang kalo iya langsung dah saya jawab, mungkin kayaknya saya ngasi langsung panggil namanya juga sering gtu, kayak N12 kenapa sih kamu kayak gitu ? Gtu.. atau nggak , N7 duduk dengan baik. N1 misalnya kan kayak gitu ya, hoooh. Jadi mereka tau siapa yang sebenarnya saya tunjuk, siapa yang sebenarnya.. naa modelnya kayak leadernya yang bikin ketika ributnya itu. Atau mungkin.. ya mention name langsung. Kadang misalnya kalok yang megang HP kan langsung saya kasi tau kek gtu.”

[“Yes, I ever called the student's name. I often call the names of students directly, for example N12 (N=students’ name) “why are do that?”, N7 (N=students’ name) “Sits well!”. “N1!” (Mention students’ name). So they know who I'm actually referring to, who is actually making a noise. Also for the students who were caught using their cellphones during the class, I immediately called his name and I told him not to be like that.]

8. Question: What instructions do you use to overcome students' disruptive behavior?

Answer:

“Paling banter sih jangan.. atau duduk manis, jangan ribut, jangan ganggu temannya, nggak boleh lo kayak gitu, gtu.. kalo disini tu belajar segala macem gitulah.”

[The most frequently commands that I use is don’t and direct. For example sit nicely, don't make noise, don't disturb your friends, you cannot be like that, and here is a place to study.]

9. Question: What are the reasons you often use don't command and regular command and why you rarely use other commands?

Answer:

“Saya harus makeknya.. saya biasanya pakeknya dua language ya, karna satu kadang mereka kalau kita pakek bhs inggris tu, mereka pikir kita nggak terlalu marah, gtu.. saya pikir ya. Sedangkan mereka kan indonesian ya students bukan luar , kalau luar mungkin ngerti ya dengan sinisnya kita , tapi kalo mereka bahasa bali.. kadang tiga lang.. tiga bahasa jadinya, sekarang bahasa bali ke bahasa indonesia mereka baru mengerti gitu lo, bahwa kita bener-bener serius ngasi tau bahwa mereka tu mengganggu yang lain gtu, karna ada beberapa yang memang suka mereka belajar, dan mereka tu merasa terganggu gtu.. kelihatanlah gtu.. Ee.. langsung direct aja keknya iya langsung.. iya jadi langsung direct langsung apa namanya mereka langsung diem gtu.. ya mungkin beberapa saat ya mungkin ya tapi agak mengena lah gtu.. dari pada attention please.. mereka bakal tetep ribut kek gitu.. iya seketika. Itu aja sih ha a. Dan untuk pertanyaan knapa jarang menggunakan jenis command lain yaitu karena saya lupa ya ada berapa banyak jenis commads, jadi mengalir begitu saja memberikan command kepada anak-anak jadi nggak ada alasan yang khusus”

[I usually use two languages, because sometimes when I give commands with only in English, they think I'm not serious about reprimanding them. Because they are Indonesian students, foreign students may immediately understand cynically the teacher when giving commands. Sometimes when I use three languages they really want to obey and understand that they are bothering other students. Because there are some who really like them learning, and they feel disturbed. So when I use the direct command they immediately keep quite even though it works for a while. I'm unconsciously dominant giving that commands than others commands. For the question why I rarely use other types of commands because I forget how many types of commands, so it just flows to give commands to students so there is no specific reason]

10. Question: I just want to clarify, in previous observation I found you gave command like “stop” to the students who was debating. Does that mean you told them to stop debating?

Answer:

“Saya emang nyuruh mereka untuk berhenti rebut karena dah capek banget dengerin mereka ngomong, jadi mungkin waktu itu ya saya tidak tau juga eee..biar nggak trus jangan jangan aja jadi saya bilang sudah sudah gtu”

[I really told them to stop make noise because I were so tired of listening them to talk, so maybe at that time to make it not give don't commands only so I said stop.]
