ABSTRAK

Penelitian ini menganalisis perlindungan hukum terhadap pemenuhan hak anak korban perceraian dari perspektif Undang-Undang Nomor 35 Tahun 2014 tentang Perlindungan Anak, dengan fokus pada prinsip-prinsip perlindungan seperti kepentingan terbaik anak, hak asuh, nafkah, pendidikan, dan hak keperdataan, serta kendala implementasinya di Pengadilan Agama. Penelitian yuridis normatif ini menemukan bahwa meskipun regulasi secara normatif kuat melalui mekanisme hak asuh, mediasi, dan kewajiban orang tua, praktik lapangan terkendala oleh kurangnya kesadaran masyarakat, ketidakpatuhan nafkah, minim pengawasan, serta dampak psikologis dan sosial pada anak akibat peningkatan kasus perceraian sejak 2018-2023. Kesimpulannya, perlindungan hukum belum optimal sehingga disarankan penguatan sanksi, edukasi orang tua, pelatihan mediator, dan sinergi antarlembaga untuk memastikan hak anak terpenuhi secara berkelanjutan.

ABSTRACT

This research analyzes the legal protection for fulfilling the rights of child victims of divorce from the perspective of Law Number 35 of 2014 on Child Protection, focusing on protection principles such as the best interests of the child, child custody, maintenance, education, and civil rights, as well as implementation challenges in Religious Courts. This normative juridical research finds that although regulations are normatively strong through custody mechanisms, mediation, and parental obligations, field practices are hindered by lack of public awareness, non-compliance with maintenance payments, minimal supervision, and psychological and social impacts on children due to rising divorce cases since 2018-2023. In conclusion, legal protection is not yet optimal, so recommendations include strengthening sanctions, parental education, mediator training, and inter-agency synergy to ensure children's rights are sustainably fulfilled.
