ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The writer would like to express her deepest gratitude to Ida Sang Hyang Widhi Wasa for His endless blessings, guidance, and protection throughout the process of completing this thesis entitled “Adults’ versus Elders’ Perceived Understanding of the Endangered Lexicons of the Metatah Ritual in Menyali Village.” Without His grace, this study could not have been completed successfully.

The writer also sincerely extends her appreciation to all individuals who have contributed their support, guidance, motivation, and valuable assistance during the completion of this study.

1. Prof. Dr. I Gede Budasi, M.Ed., as the first supervisor, for his continuous guidance, valuable suggestions, patience, encouragement, and insightful feedback throughout the research process. His support has greatly helped the writer in improving and completing this thesis.
2. I Ketut Trika Adi Ana, S.Pd.,M.Pd., as the second supervisor, for his kindness, support, constructive suggestions, patience, and thoughtful guidance during the completion of this study. The writer is truly grateful for all the knowledge, motivation, and assistance given throughout this academic journey.
3. All lecturers of the English Language Education Department for the knowledge, experiences, and meaningful lessons shared during the writer’s study.

4. The writer's beloved family, especially her parents, I Wayan Suwastawa and Ni Kadek Parmiti, and her brother, Andika Pratama, for their endless love, sincere prayers, sacrifices, support, motivation, patience, and encouragement throughout every stage of the writer's life and academic journey. The writer is deeply grateful for their unwavering belief, warmth, and strength that continuously lifted her during moments of exhaustion, doubt, and difficulty. Their love has become the greatest source of strength, comfort, and inspiration in completing this thesis.
5. The writer's beloved boyfriend and his family, especially Rai Bagus Ardian Setiadarma, for their endless support, care, encouragement, prayers, kindness, and patience throughout the process of completing this thesis. The writer is deeply grateful for how they helped her rise again, regain her spirit, and move forward with more strength, love, and confidence during both the difficult and joyful moments of this journey.
6. The writer's beloved umbrella research friends, Manda and Devi, who have shared countless struggles, laughter, unforgettable memories, motivation, information, support, and encouragement throughout the process of completing this thesis. The writer is sincerely grateful for their companionship, care, patience, and togetherness during stressful, exhausting, and emotional moments. Their presence made this academic journey feel lighter, warmer, and more meaningful.
7. The respondents and community members of Menyali Village for their willingness, participation, hospitality, and valuable contributions in providing the data needed for this research.

Finally, the writer realizes that this thesis is still far from being perfect. Therefore, constructive criticism and suggestions are sincerely welcomed for the improvement of this study. The writer hopes that this research can provide meaningful contributions to the field of linguistics, particularly in the study of endangered ritual lexicons, intergenerational language transmission, and Balinese cultural preservation. Furthermore, the writer hopes that this study may help raise awareness among younger generations about the importance of preserving the ritual lexicons of the Metatah ceremony as part of the cultural identity and local wisdom of Menyali Village.
