ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost, the writer would like to express her deepest gratitude to Ida Sang Hyang Widhi Wasa for His infinite blessings, grace, guidance, strength, and protection throughout every step of this journey.

The writer also sincerely expresses her heartfelt appreciation to everyone who has contributed, supported, encouraged, and accompanied the writer throughout this academic journey.

1. Prof. Dr. I Gede Budasi, M.Ed., as the first supervisor, for his invaluable guidance, insightful suggestions, and continuous encouragement throughout this research. The writer is especially grateful for his motivation and unwavering belief, which inspired the writer to keep moving forward and complete this thesis despite the many challenges along the way.
2. Dr. Nyoman Karina Wedhanti, as the second supervisor, for her valuable advice, constructive feedback, patience, and continuous support. Her thoughtful guidance and encouragement have greatly contributed to the completion and improvement of this thesis.
3. All lecturers of the English Language Education Study Program, Universitas Pendidikan Ganesha, for sharing their knowledge, experiences, and inspiration throughout the writer's academic journey. Their dedication has shaped the writer into a better learner and future educator.
4. The writer's beloved family, especially her beloved parents, I Komang Sukertiyasa and Ni Wayan Suryanti. To her father, the writer expresses her deepest gratitude for his endless hard work, sacrifices, and unconditional support in providing everything needed throughout her academic journey.

His perseverance and dedication have become the writer's greatest motivation to never give up. To her mother, the writer sincerely thanks her for her endless love, sincere prayers, constant care, and unwavering presence, especially during the writer's most difficult moments. Her warmth, concern, and encouragement have always given the writer the strength to continue. The writer also extends her heartfelt gratitude to her beloved grandparents and her siblings, Ni Putu Ari Pratiwi, Komang Trisna Adi Pradnyana, and Ketut Candra Partha Wiguna, for always being supportive, dependable, and encouraging the writer through every challenge and achievement.

5. Della and Aska, the writer's dearest friends since the orientation period and beloved boarding-house companions, for accompanying the writer from the very beginning of university life. Thank you for the countless memories, laughter, support, and for making every stage of this journey more meaningful.
6. Riska, Depik, Vika, and Astari, the writer's first classmates and companions throughout university, for always supporting one another. Thank you for your encouragement, advice, and willingness to stay beside the writer during the most difficult moments of completing this thesis. Your kindness, patience, and belief in the writer have meant more than words can express.
7. Anggi and Susan, for becoming wonderful friends who always listened, offered thoughtful advice, and helped the writer find direction whenever she felt uncertain or overwhelmed. Your support has been truly appreciated.

8. Nandia, the writer's thesis partner, for accepting the invitation to begin this journey together. Thank you for walking side by side throughout the thesis process, encouraging each other through every challenge, and proving that with persistence and mutual support, we could finally reach this stage together.
9. All informants and the Head of Baha Village, for their cooperation, valuable knowledge, and permission to conduct this research. Without their generosity and willingness to share their experiences, this study would not have been possible.
10. For myself, Ni Kadek Dwik Surya Pradnyani, thank you for having the strength, courage, and perseverance to keep going throughout this journey. Thank you for choosing to stay, to rise after every setback, and to never give up despite the challenges, doubts, and exhaustion along the way. This thesis stands as a reminder that every small step, every sacrifice, and every moment of persistence has led to this meaningful achievement. May this accomplishment be the beginning of many greater journeys ahead.

Finally, the writer extends her sincere appreciation to everyone who has contributed to the completion of this thesis. It is hoped that this study will provide valuable insights and contribute to future research in the field of linguistic ethnography
